FREE 1-PAGE MINI SHEET

Six shades worth knowing first

Colour codes are the fastest way to order the wrong hair. This sheet gives you the six shades that cover most natural-looking braids, crochet and bulk installs — and the one rule that prevents most mistakes.

Screen and paper colours are approximations. Always match against the actual strand in daylight.

The rule that saves a reorder

Hold the hair against the mid-to-end lengths of your own hair, not the roots. Roots are usually darker. When you are between two shades, go one shade deeper — too dark reads as natural, too light reads as a wig.
